A Teaching Moment

4th Sunday in Ordinary Time

People who play the lottery are always hoping for that big chance to win a super jackpot. Against all odds (literally!) they imagine winning millions. After all, someone has to win. It might as well be me. It's almost contradictory that lotteries have become part of state budgeting, when many Americans believe in the values of hard work and earning a living as opposed to the gratuitous windfall that a lottery would give someone. State income from lotteries exceeds that of tobacco excise taxes, but is less than the license fees states collect on motor vehicles. Everybody who wants something for nothing is involved. For the outlay of a miniscule amount of cash, a player dreams of an immense return. And the state gets a bonus to its income without having to tax its citizens more. In today's Gospel, the people of Nazareth are acting a bit like lottery hopefuls, with high expectations for a significant payout with the investment of very little. They've heard about all the great things that Jesus did in Capernaum, and now they are expecting to cash in on the local boy made good. Surely he has got to work some astounding miracles here. But Jesus is not a lottery ticket. And faith in him is not a something for nothing proposition in which all the benefits are reaped with very little investment. As we will learn as we read from Luke's Gospel in the weeks and months ahead, Jesus is headed on a journey to Jerusalem. His destiny lies in that city where he will suffer and die, and finally, through his resurrection, he will usher in the era of the Spirit that is poured out on the church. For us, following Jesus is a lifelong journey to our own Jerusalem in which we empty ourselves in the service of others. It is no lottery that we hope to win, but a share in Christ's journey through death to resurrection.

Malassada Sale

Thank you to all the parishioners who signed up to help with the making of the Malassada and those who gave donations of supplies and money. The response has been overwhelming. Malassada Sale will start on Monday night, February 11th, between 6pm-8pm and Tuesday, February 12th, from 6am if there are any left.

Discernment Evening with Bishop Evans

Bishop Evans will host a Discernment Evening for all high school, college and post-college age men who are interested in learning more about the priesthood on Tuesday, February 26, 2013 at 6:30pm at the Seminary of Our Lady of Providence. The evening will include prayer and adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, food, fellowship, and a talk and question and answer period with Bishop Evans. Please contact Fr. Carl Fiset at 331-1316 if interested or for more information. www.catholicpriest.com

Rhode Island Catholic

Each February, Rhode Island Catholic conducts an annual subscription campaign. After mass this week, complimentary copies of the paper are available near the entrance of the church. Please take home a copy and consider subscribing to your diocesan paper to read news each week you won't find anywhere else. If you are interested in subscribing to the paper, just drop the specially marked envelope in the budget collection basket next week or call 272-1010 for more information.
